

Diamond Creek Farm is a stallion/breeding/racing standardbred and thoroughbred operation. Diamond Creek stands stallion in several states and consigns yearling and mixed horses at the major standardbred sales. Our prestigious broodmare bands are cultivated for commerciality and our own racing stable.

Diamond Creek is seeking a broodmare manager for expansion of our operation in Kentucky. An ideal candidate would possess extensive foaling and broodmare experience, with a minimum of 3-5 years of foaling. The position would include the care of approximately 40-60 client and homebred mares and foals on a year round basis. The ideal candidate should demonstrate excellent leadership and communication skills. As well as able to supervise, coordinate, and direct a team 4-6 employees. Record keeping and reproductive management are daily activities. This position requires night duties during the foaling season (January to June). The Broodmare Manager will be part of the Diamond Creek management team and may be consulted for expertise at other divisions.

We are a growing farm with a tight knit group of employees. We place value on fun and counter our crunch times with going out to dinners, parties, to the races as a farm, etc. This is a job with flexibility and an opportunity for growth within our organization.

Position is located in Lexington, KY Full Time – hours/days vary based on season. There will be weekends and after hours during sales, breeding seasons etc.

Benefits include sick/vacation time, access to a partial employer sponsored group health plan.
