Lexington Equine Medical Group is looking for two full-time Veterinary Technicians to work with two prominent senior veterinarians. We are seeking individuals who desire a long-term position, with an outgoing personality that wants to be a part of a rapidly growing ambulatory practice.

Responsibilities will include traveling to various farms throughout the Lexington area and assisting the veterinarian with a variety of procedures that include but not limited to breeding management, foal medicine, lameness examinations, radiography, and emergency calls. Duties also include restocking the vehicle at the end of each shift, accurately recording billing procedures, and maintaining a clean work environment.

About you:

- You are a Veterinary Technician with equine experience! While experience is preferred, it is more important to our team to find the RIGHT fit – skills can be taught. We want to find someone that shares the same goals and values, someone that is friendly, compassionate, dependable, and truly wants to make a difference.
- You understand the importance of maintaining a positive, respectful, uplifting work culture and genuinely love working with people that share that same value.
- You're not afraid to jump in and get your feet wet! A hard worker who takes initiative and contributes to the operation of the entire practice, you will help get all the day's duties done!
- You are not afraid to ask questions and are eager to learn and continue enhancing your skill set.

Lexington Equine Medical offers competitive hourly pay plus overtime. Guaranteed 40 hours per week. Benefits include health insurance, 401(k) plus safe harbor contribution, life and disability insurance, paid time off, paid holidays, employee discount.

We look forward to hearing from you!
